Equal Opportunities Policy

Equal Opportunities

AML Skills Ltd believes that everyone has the right to be treated with dignity and respect at work. We have adopted an equal opportunities policy, which commits the Company to fair, unbiased and objective employment practices and a work environment, which is free of harassment and victimisation. It is the responsibility of every employee and worker to assist the Company in meeting this commitment. For this reason, acceptance of and adherence to the Company's equal opportunities policy form part of every employee's contract of employment and every subcontractor's contract for services.

Equal Opportunities Policy

This equal opportunities policy statement and policy statement on harassment at work are designed to implement the commitment of the Employer to equal opportunities. It is the responsibility of every employee/worker to ensure his or her own conduct conforms to the expected standards and reflects these policy statements.

The aim of the policies is to encourage harmony and respect amongst individuals so as to promote good working practices with a view to maximising the performance and the return to the Employer and the employees/workers.

If equal opportunities are not applied then valuable talent and potential are wasted. Moreover when unfair discrimination, harassment, bullying or victimisation take place they bring about a climate of fear, insecurity and poor work performance. As well as being unlawful it affects profitability and morale. It is therefore vital that every employee/worker understands his or her responsibilities. Equal opportunities is taken very seriously by the Employer and wilful failure to apply the policies or evidence of discrimination, harassment, bullying or victimisation will result in disciplinary action which may include your dismissal.

Policy Statement on Harassment at Work

1. The Employer believes that the dignity of every person must be respected. Harassment of colleagues or visitors is unacceptable and will be regarded as gross misconduct. The highest standards of conduct are required of everyone regardless of seniority.
2. The Employer recognises that harassment may take many forms. It may be directed towards persons of either sex. It may relate to a person's ethnic origin, religion or belief, age, sex, pregnancy or maternity leave, sexual orientation, physical or mental attributes or some other personal characteristic.
3. Harassment may involve action or inaction, behaviour, exclusion, comment or physical contact that the recipient finds objectionable or offensive. It may result in the recipient feeling threatened, humiliated, intimidated, patronised, demoralised or less confident in their ability. Condoning such conduct may be harassment in itself. The test of harassment is, at least in part, subjective.
4. Examples of unacceptable conduct include:
Verbal abuse, or insulting behaviour;
Sexist or racist jokes, jokes about an individual's sexual, or perceived orientation, jokes about a person's age or jokes about an individual's physical or mental attributes;

Unsolicited or unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature including touching, staring or commenting;
Comments of a sexual nature about a person's appearance or dress;
Any conduct related to someone's sex or that of another person, which has the purpose or effect of intimidating, degrading, humiliating or offending; and treating someone unfavourably because they have rejected or submitted to any form of sexual harassment.
5. Harassment, particularly on the grounds of sex, sexual orientation, race, age, disability, religion or belief, will be regarded as gross misconduct for disciplinary purposes. Accordingly, employees guilty of harassment run a serious risk of summary dismissal.
6. Equally, an allegation of harassment must not be made lightly. If it is found that an allegation of harassment has been made without foundation and maliciously then this will also be regarded as gross misconduct for disciplinary purposes.
7. All complaints of harassment should be made to your AML Skills Ltd through the grievance procedure unless the complaint is regarding this person, in which case you should complain to that person's superior.
